New Jersey Shore and Central New Jersey – PODS of the New Jersey Shore and PODS of Central New Jersey today announced a unique partnership with the National Multiple Sclerosis Society, Mid-Jersey Chapter.

The MS Walk attracts more than 250,000 walkers in more than 700 cities across the country. In the mid-Jersey area alone, nine communities will host close to 4,000 walkers and over 300 volunteers on April 22, 2007.

The “Coast the Coast” Bike Tour, presented by The Vitamin Shoppe, is one of the premier cycling events in the central New Jersey region. On May 19 and 20, more than 1,600 cyclists will depart from Monmouth University to four different courses throughout Central New Jersey.

Together, the National Multiple Sclerosis Society, Mid-Jersey Chapter expects to raise $2 million.

“The Walk and Bike Tour are the signature fundraising events for us,” said Marie Trezza, manager of the MS Bike Tour and Special Projects. “PODS’ commitment to raise money for our organization as part of their sponsorship speaks volumes of their commitment to the communities in which they work and live.”

The weather-resistant PODS brand containers, which are specially designed to withstand a wind velocity of up to 110 miles per hour, will be safely and securely locked at the location, protecting its contents from possible theft and the elements.

“What better way to demonstrate the benefits of our products than to positively impact such a widely respected organization seeking to bring real change into people’s lives,” said PODS of the New Jersey Shore President Tom Nader.

“This partnership is a win-win-win for everyone,” continued PODS of Central New Jersey Owner Dan Davison. The MS Society will have an additional fundraising source. And PODS gets great exposure for our patented storage solutions.”
